Dear John,

I wanted to take a moment to thank you and your organization for your recent service in listing and successfully selling my aircraft.

Bartelt Aviation provided a high level of professionalism from the very first interaction. Your firm quickly responded to my desire to list my Saratoga, effectively marketed the aircraft on both your website and throughout industry publications and provided me with updates on potential buyers that were prescreened for their sincerity to purchase. I appreciate your desire to provide full disclosure of the aircraft history to allow potential buyers a true understanding of the aircraft.

I would personally contact your company in the future for any aircraft acquisitions or sales needs and would highly recommend your service to others. Thank you again for providing a service from start to finish that was an outstanding experience.

Sincerely,

Jason Fromm
